Let's Do Something About It!

"Let's Do Something About Litter" say members of the Appomattox Home Demonstration Club! This unsightly collection of cans, bags and other trash is on a county road passed by hundreds of motorists, "it's not the sort of thing we want visitors to see" remarked one HD Club member, and then she added that it isn't any more pleasant for county motorists, either. Suggestions, anyone, as to how we can clean up such unauthorized dumps? The TIMES-VIRGINIAN would be happy to publish suggestions and comments on our local litter problem.

Area Youth At Camp

Bryan D. Jennings of Prospect, and David B. Washburn of Gladstone represented Appomattox County at Virginia's 26th annual Forestry Camp at Holiday Lake Camp near Appomattox.

The camp, held June 21-25, was conducted by the Virginia Division of Forestry with the sponsorship of the Southern Forest Institute. Financing for the camp is contributed by local pulp and paper companies including: The Chesapeake Corporation of Virginia; Continental Company, Inc.; The Glatfelter Pulp Wood Company; The Mead Corporation; Owens-Illinois; Union Camp Corporation and Westvaco Corporation.

More than 70 boys learned wise use and appreciation of the forest, America's major renewable resource. Professional forest and game managers provide instruction in ecology, forest renewal and management, tree identification, timber harvesting and processing, forest wildfire control and game management.

The boys also had frequent opportunities for swimming, softball, volleyball, horseshoe pitching and other recreational activities.

At the conclusion of the outstanding camper is given prizes for excellence in forestry work, campground activities.

AT FORESTRY CAMP — Bryan D. Jennings and David Washburn attended Virginia's 26th Annual Forestry Camp. They are shown here with Fayette Wiatt of Fredericksburg, a counselor.
